

The five developmental areas for school readiness are:

- Approaches to learning
- Health and physical well being
- Language and communication development
- Social and emotional development
- Cognitive and general knowledge

The purpose of this definition is to give parents, child care and preschool providers, and communities an overview of the expectations of primary schools for incoming students and provide guidance to families and communities on how to prepare children for school. In addition, a readiness profile provides teachers, child care providers, and parents a tool to better inform them on the specific strengths and needs of each individual child.

 These school readiness skills and behaviors are not to be used to determine school eligibility; all children who meet the legal age requirement are entitled to public school.*

These school readiness skills and behaviors are aligned to Kentucky Early Childhood Standards and are designed to be used with the KIDS NOW Early Childhood Parent Guide and were adapted from the Final Report of the National Governors Association Task Force on School Readiness, the Northern Kentucky Council of Partners in Education Kindergarten Readiness pamphlet, the United States Department of Education School Readiness Checklist, the Maryland Model of School Readiness, and the School Readiness in North Carolina Report to the North Carolina State Board of Education.*

Kentucky School Readiness

These indicators represent the hopes and aspirations for incoming students, not the expectations. Children develop at different rates, not every child will have mastered all of the skills and behaviors listed below at the beginning of a primary program.

READY

School Readiness

In Kentucky, school readiness means that each child enters school ready to engage in and benefit from early learning experiences that best promote the child's success.

Families, early care and education providers, school staff, and community partners must work together to provide environments and developmental experiences that promote growth and learning to ensure that all children in Kentucky enter school eager and excited to learn.

Health and Physical Well-Being
